

Here is an old brick building located in Orlando, Florida. Note the beautiful brick work designs on the corners and around the windows. Hopefully the city plans to renovate this old building, which has so much character.

